JOURNEY BEFORE THE COLLECTIVE

Before the Collective, Imani was not making the amount of money she wanted to be in her part-time grant writer job. Her work-life balance was not sustainable. 🙄

She had little confidence in herself or the path she was taking. She had a vision for her life's impact, but didn't know how to reach it.

Imani wanted her work to heal the world, especially in issues surrounding black & brown women, lower income youth/families, and environmental justice.

MAJOR WINS

- ✅ Learning while getting paid.
- ✅ Saying no to full-time grant writer job offers so she could say yes to a grant consulting opportunity aligned with her values and lifestyle goals.
- ✅ Prioritizing work-life balance.
- ✅ Landing a full-time grant consulting job one year after the informational interview.

FEEDBACK FOR YOU

“ Go for it...Whatever that thing is you want to change in your life right now - just go for it. It's hard, but it's worth it. -Imani ”
